

iPhone Mom

My journey as a iPhone Mom Developer

Special Thanksgiving App Review- Interactive Three Little Pigs Game Book

Interactive Three Little Pigs Game Book for the iPad was created by Kideo, the leading creator of personalized and branded video products. I received a promo code to review this entertaining ebook.

From the developer- The Three Little Pigs interactive ebook features 35-pages of fun and educational activities. The classic "Three Little Pigs" story can be read out loud by the narrator, or a customized reading by a family member or the child can be recorded as a keepsake. The ebook can also be personalized utilizing PixFusion's innovative patented photo-personalized technology so that the image of your choice can be featured throughout the story. To help further promote reading, The Three Little Pigs app also features a "Read" mode that highlights each word in the story so children can follow along, and kids can also tap any word to hear it repeated.

First Impression- A nice twist to the well known story The Three Little Pigs. One of the first things I wanted to try out is the option to personalize the book with a photo. I found this by touching the settings button ( two circle gears). With a few taps I added a picture of my daughter and now I have a personalized book! I then recorded my story. My daughter was delighted to follow the story with my voice.

Ease of use- The app itself is pretty easy to use. I would say that an adult may need to be present to help your little one with personalizing the book and/or recording the story.

What makes this app pop!- The Three Little Pigs book app features a "Blow the House Down" game which includes tilting and blowing capabilities which actually enable users to take on the role of the Wolf and blow into the iPad speaker to blow the house down! Of course this was one of our favorite games to play. This feature really takes full advantage of the iPad.

Areas of improvement?- It would be nice if you didn't have to restart the app in order to view the personalized photo. I would have missed this step if I didn't read the instructions.

Overall view of the app- You can tell the developer put a lot of thought into the app. In addition to the story and the "Blow the House Down" game it includes five other multi-level games and activities including a construction game, matching game, maze, puzzles, and coloring pages which can be shared with family and friends. It also includes an original video segment from a Between the Lions episode. This is not a simple book and does so much more than just reading. Books for kids on the iPhone and iPad are becoming more and more entertaining!

<http://iphonemom.blogspot.com/2011/11/special-thanksgiving-app-review.html>